BIOGRAPHY

Dean Burrell is an experienced labor and employment attorney having worked with local and federal government (DC PERB and the National Labor Relations Board), Fortune 500 corporations (Vice President of Labor Relations for Republic Services aka Allied Waste and BFI), and major law firms (Grotta Glassman, now part of Fox Rothschild). Dean was an adjunct professor of labor law at the Arizona Summit Law School.

Dean earned a B.S. from the Cornell University School of Industrial & Labor Relations (and is a past president of the Alumni Association); a J.D. from the Washington College of Law, The American University; and a Masters of Law in Labor and Employment from the Georgetown University Law Center. He completed the Labor Arbitrator Development Program of the Cornell University ILR School's Scheinman Institute for Conflict Resolution.

Panel memberships include the American Arbitration Association, the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, the Office of Contract Administration (Local 32BJ SEIU and Realty Advisory Board), the United Federation of Teachers-NYC Department of Education 3020a panel (previously), the NJ Board of Mediation, the NJ Public Employment Relations Commission, the New York Public Employment Relations Board, the Port Authority Employment Relations Panel, the National Mediation Board, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission Whistleblower Panel. Dean is a NJ Courts R. 1:40 Qualified Mediator (Roster of Court-Approved Civil Mediators), an EEOC outside mediator, and on the Presumptive ADR panel of various New York State Courts.

Besides the Cornell ILR Alumni Association, Dean is a member of the NJ Supreme Court Committee on Dispute Resolution, the NJ State Bar Labor and Employment Executive Committee, the editorial staff of the NJ State Bar Labor and Employment Quarterly, the State Bar diversity committee, Chair-elect of the Dispute Resolution Section, and former chair of the Minorities in the Profession Section. He is president of the Garden State Bar (the NJ National Bar Association affiliate), and Chair of the NBA Alternative Dispute Resolution Section. Dean is also past president of the Arizona chapter of LERA and past secretary of NJ LERA, Master of the Bench with the Reitman Labor and Employment Inn of Court, a member of the L+E and ADR sections of the American Bar Association and NY State Bar Association. Dean has been active with 100 Black Men of New Jersey and Arizona, and is former president of Alpha Phi Alpha, Alpha Chapter Alumni Association.
